Subject: solar talks, march 24th meeting in montpelier.

i live in vergennes and can't make it up to Montpelier at night. The state is going to far promoting all of the solar projects going up all over the place. Its not the kind of scenery that we Vermonters want to see. the same goes for these wind mills on the torn up mountain tops either. It wouldn't be as bad if they hidden where they can't be seen. i think the solar companies are here for the money, like any other big business. To achieve the governors goal of by 2050 we would have to cover way to much area, it would ruin this state. Vermont is already one of the greenest states in the country. To many people in Montpelier always wants to lead in everything new at the tax payers expense. STOP IT!
